

Reverb

Project Brief

- Reverb is a renowned online marketplace for musicians, offering a wide range of musical instruments, both new and vintage. The platform is distinguished by its unwavering commitment to offering inspiring content, transparent pricing, musician-centric eCommerce features, exceptional customer service, and a thriving global community of users.

Key Challenges

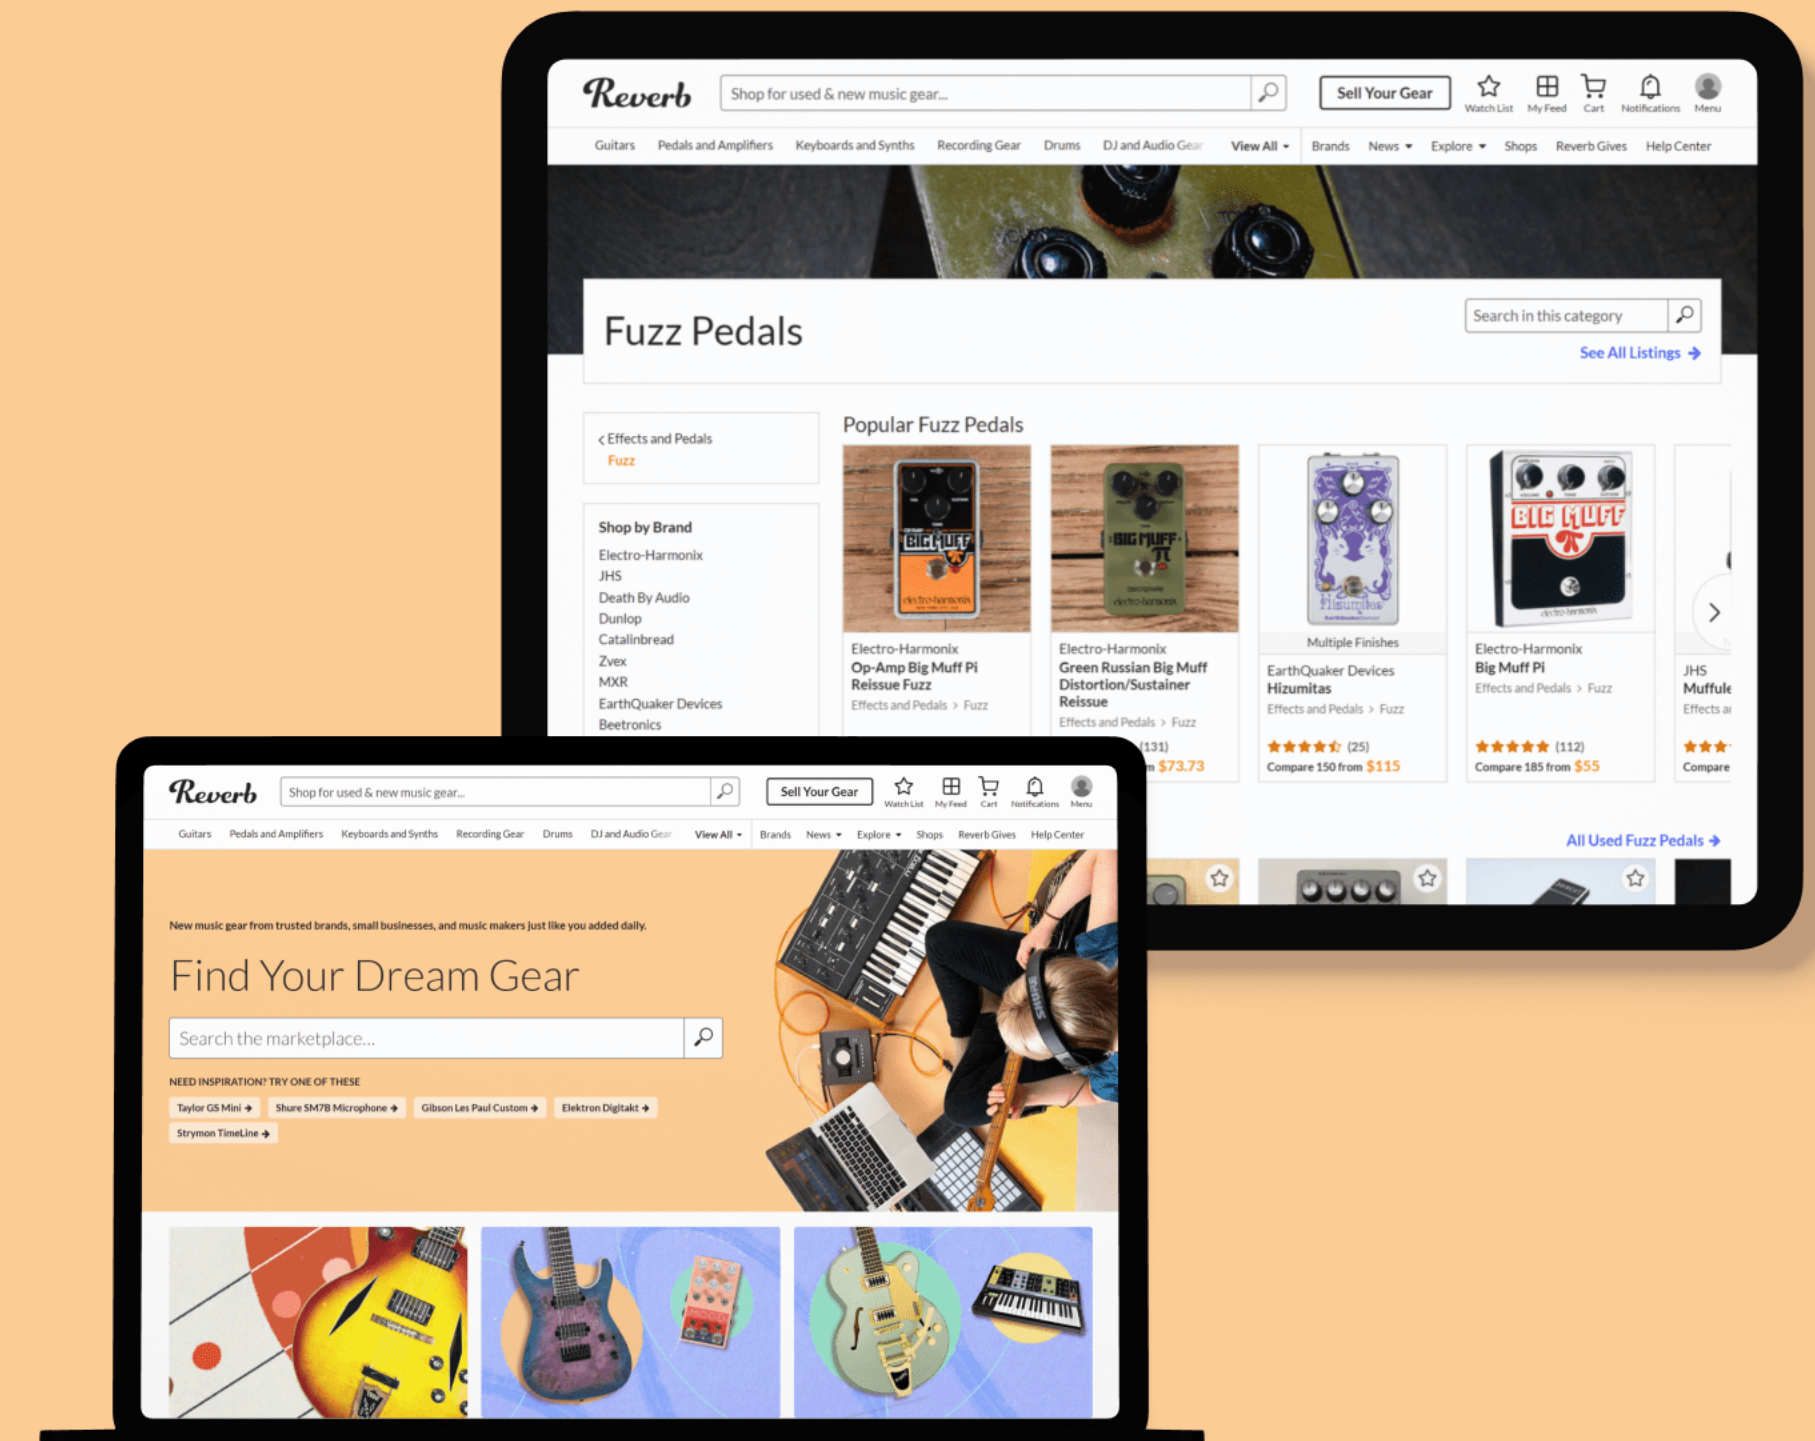

- Improving customization options for the Reverb Power Buyer Web App.
- Integrating OAuth login for sellers connecting to 3rd Party Applications.
- Implementing functionalities for Follow management and automatic offers.
- Integrating multiple third-party services seamlessly.
- Configuring a CRON timer for automated feed refresh.
- Establishing auto-bid settings based on specified conditions.
- Managing listings efficiently, especially those with existing offers.

Solution Delivered

- High-end customization by using OAuth to log in to a 3rd party app and making sure it was self-contained and easily accessible.
- Integration of various 3rd party integrations to fetch the user's personal follows and user's feed utilizing through the API.
- Setting up a CRON timer to repopulate the feed to grab new things every N minutes.
- Allowing users to set auto-bid by following specific criteria and making sure it was easy to use.
- Ignoring the listings that already have an offer on them by implementing a filtering mechanism to avoid unnecessary auto-offers

Highlighted Features

- Login /Sign Up with OAuth 3rd party Integration
- Functionality to make Auto-offer On by following the certain conditions
- Fetch the User's personal follows via API
- The app should pull from the user's feed, utilizing the endpoint, and then populate the app's product list any of the user's matching follows.
- Easy search option based on product list (saved search)
- Facebook, Twitter, Social media Integrations
- Global toggle/setting to turn the app ON/OFF
- Trace the data of the offer made by the user
- Third-Party Integration for User's Personal Follows
- Third-Party Integration for User's Feed
